Thanks to all those who have supported us over the years. We may be the last vestige for true country music. So please read on. Apart from our new releases we have a stack of bargains & deletions. LP records?? Trying to find anyone who is still into vinyl as I have a stack to sell. All great including a dozen Mel Street Ips and 40 or so Porter Wagoner!!

Don't forget the first newsletter of 2009 will have our year's best cds in it. Naturally there will be a few from this newsletter which will come into calculations and certainly these from our last couple of newsletters will be knocking at the door. These are in alphabetical order.

*Tony Booth – Is That All There Is

*Peter Cooper – Mission Door

*Claude Diamond – On the Loose

*Amber Digby – Passion Pride & What Might Have Been.

*Fayssoux - Early

*James Intveld – Have Faith

*Jamey Johnson – That Lonesome Song

*Patty Loveless – Sleepless Nights

- *Miss Leslie – Between the Whiskey & the Wine
- *Songs of the Year (Randy Travis does “Chiselled In Stone”, George Jones does “Murder on Music Row” etc)
- **Leona Williams – New Patches

Hank Williams III – “Damn Right Rebel Proud” $32 This is Hank 3’s 4th Curb country cd and he continues the fine quality of the first 3. He hates what is referred to as mainstream country and if I were to meet him I would congratulate him that his views paralleled mine 100%. I mean what right have the record companies got to call someone such as Taylor Swift a country artist. They are just faceless politically correct symbols of inanity but that (with exceptions you can count on the finger of one hand of a bad butcher) is what 2008 Nashville is all about. I think Hank is parodying a lot of this. I mean if his lifestyle were really exactly as he sings he would make Courtney Love seem like Mother Theresa. Hank is damn funny. Despite its crudeness the opening “The Grand Ole Opry (Ain’t So Grand)” is darn right laugh out loud funny. Great acoustic and electric interplay from Randy Kohrs and Johnny Hiland for starters. Joe Buck, formerly of punk rockabilly group “The Shack Shakers” is tremendous throughout on slap bass and forms a tight rhythm section with Shawn McWilliams on drums. “Wild & Free” has some serious great picking with Marty Stuart on mandolin & electric guitar and former BR549 multi-instrumentalist Donnie Herron on fiddle. Andy Gibson plays the staple of many swing bands, the stand up steel guitar (Aussies will remember it as a feature of the Dancehall Racketeers). “I Wish I Knew” is Hank’s version of a love song and a darn good one to boot though an apologist he is certainly not. “Candidate for Suicide” may be seen on two levels. It may be Hank winking at us or it may be true. I suspect it is more of the former with Hank reiterating what people have said to him. You could just imagine what some of the conservative elements think of him. Tracks 8 & 9 veer away from the country. Country fans (and I don’t mean members of the Jimmy Wayne fan club) will love this album bar these 2 tracks. “Stoned and Alone” has a similar theme and comes from a similar stance to “Candidate for Suicide”. “PFF” is a breakneck rebel stance song that may be a little too wild for some. The album concludes with probably the two straightest songs on the cd. “3 Shades of Black’ is just Hank 3 and his guitar. The bluegrass “Workin’ Man” is a genuine classic. As good as it gets. The hackneyed theme is given new life. Brilliant. This album comes with an “Explicit lyrics” warning as Hank likes to drop a few “words”. This worries the Americans. A four letter word means a lot. Bankrupting the world’s economies is acceptable provided the language is okay. If you do a radio show you may like to buy a “clean” version which edits out the swear words. Mind you statistics prove the explicit outsells the clean by a factor of 50 to 1. BUT, if the swearing worries you then the clean version is ok.

Also, for those wanting a great gift or whatever, Hank’s first 3 cds (the third “Straight to hell” being a double) come packaged in a very attractive tin for the ridiculous price of $40. We have a few.

“Always Lift Him Up – A Tribute to Blind Alfred Reed” $32 This was missed. It was a late 2007 release to commemorate Blind Alfred’s inauguration into the West Virginian Hall of Fame. There are 19 tracks on this cd and represents all bar one of the songs Blind Alfred himself recorded. Why the compilers would choose to leave “The Wreck of the Virginian” off this is anyone’s guess, but I am not gonna be one of them. This is, to my way of thinking, one of the very the best ever country tribute albums and there have been some great ones. The most famous Reed song is no doubt "How Can a Poor Man Stand Such Times and Live" and has been covered by the likes of Ry Cooder & even Bruce Springsteen. The song still has a lot of relevance today and some pundits have even called it one of the first protest songs. It is delivered with just the right amount of irony by the very talented Tim O'Brien. A lot of Alfred's songs were to do with conservatism and as such have a cute quaintness about them. "Why Do You Bob Your Hair, Girls" is seen as direct disobedience to God, who will congratulate those girls with long hair as they enter through the pearly gates. We are told that to get to heaven, "money loving Christians" must unload, not play euchre, smoke cigarettes etc. Brilliantly sung by Larry Groce (yes, he of the novelty hit "Junkfood Junkie") it echoes similar theme to "Money Cravin' Folks" and "There'll Be No Distinction There". The latter is an acapella trio performance by the Bare Bones; no doubt Alfie would approve the fact they never spent too much on instruments! Alfred was also able to tell a mean story. "Explosion in the Fairmount Mines" (featuring John Lilly) sees a father fortunately take heed of his young daughter's advice "not to go down to the mines today" as something bad was going to happen, and blow me down she was right! Charlie McCoy is of course country music's foremost harmonica player but proves himself a great singer on "Fate of Chris Lively and Wife"...lively no more after having driven the wagon on the track just as the east bound came along. A rather jaunty song with a rather tragic ending. All performances are great. Mandolinist Johnny Staats sounds more like Arlo Guthrie than Arlo Guthrie. Ray Benson lends his distinctive voice to the humorous "Black & Blue Blues" about the man who took a "grumbler for his wife". He can't win as he cops it from his wife and his mother in law. Other artists include Tim's sister Molly O'Brien, Little Jimmy Dickens (on the hilarious "Woman's Been After Man Ever Since"), Connie Smith, Kathy Mattea plus several I have never previously hear of but are nonetheless excellent. It seems given his stance that money is the root of evil, Alfred must have died happy as it seems it was in abject poverty with rumours suggesting he died of starvation. No doubt he would have shortly after been welcomed by St Peter!

Incidentally, my grandfather's name was Alfred Reid (spelt differently) and I only found out last Christmas that as a youngish police officer it was he who pulled De Groot off his horse and arrested him after disturbing the opening of Sydney Harbour Bridge. I do believe Blind Alfred would have approved.

Chris Sprague "18 Wheelin' Truck Drivin' Songs" $30 Genuine truck driving albums are rare and this compatriot of Deke Dickerson has made a beauty with 18 tracks (plus a hidden 19th track). The whole album covers all gamut of truckin' styles with a couple of great extras chucked in for good measures. One of these is an adaptation of the Coasters' "Charlie Brown" here named "Trucker Brown". "Speeding Truck" is a great instrumental featuring Chris' brother (fellow Sprague brother Frank) doing a demonstrably good Joe Maphis impression. The longer it goes the faster he gets. There's truckin' lingo ("That's a Big 10-4"), truckin' double entendre ("Let's Get Drunk & Truck"...which has an opening very reminiscent of the Dick Curless classic "Truckstop") plus the themes echoed by the great truck driving singers in Dave Dudley and Del Reeves. There is also a certain Commander Cody feel about it and if you like any of the artists mentioned herein you will like this too. Most of the tracks are originals with a few selected covers including Red Simpson's "Runaway Truck" and Jerry Reed's "East Bound and Down".

The trucking songs are a unique sub-set of country songs with an element of danger ("Pray For Your Daddy, He's a Trucker"), excitement ("Diesel on My Tail"), flaunting the law ("Overloaded Diesel") and of course the relationship between the driver and the truck is given human qualities ("This Old Truck"). Bring it on!!

Amber Foxx – "Hi Fi Party" $30 Amber is one of the west coast's best female rockabilly acts. I would rate her with the brilliant Josie Kreuzer (who seems to have disappeared at least as far as recording goes) and infinitely better than the somewhat overrated Kim Lenz. Amber has a great voice and the material is pretty good with band member Brian "Shorty" Poole's (ex Dave & Deke Combo) "Take a Chance" showing off her wonderful warble to full effect and guitarist Tom Almanzar's "Mars Needs a Woman" having a wonderful unique riff and a call & response vocal. Normally I don't like rockabilly songs that explore the flying saucer angle but this may be the best ever. The west coast rockabilly scene is superb and incorporates more hillbilly influences than other US locales may do. The guitar duo of Almanzar on electric and Shorty on double neck non-pedal steel guitar works very well. Amber has listed among her influences as Janis Martin & Ella Mae Morse but never lets her work become imitative and is truly great in her own right.

Charlie Craig "The Hitmaker" $28 Singing songwriters generally fall in the category best shown by Paul Overstreet and Dean Dillon who made some great albums but had a kind of laid back reedy voice which to use the old adage was nothing to write home about but had style. On the other hand there are those songwriters such as the late Max D Barnes and Whitey Shafer who have great voices in their own right. Max D co-wrote a lot with Vern Gosdin and Lo and Behold was similar to Vern as was Whitey to the great Lefty Frizzell. Charlie is definitely in that category as well. His voice has elements of Lefty and Charley Pride. He is that good. His biggest successes as a writer have been Alan Jackson's "Wanted" (a great stripped down version appearing here which is even better than that of Jackson). Similarly he does a wonderful job on "Between an Old Memory & Me", a Keith Whitley favourite, and "Following the Feeling" which was a hit for Moe Bandy. "Lay Me Down a Truck Driving Man" is something that would have fitted very comfortably on the previous album. He has that wonderful country voice with a real tear in it. All the songs are of the highest calibre. The two most stringent critics, The Swedish Cowboy and the Rascal from Warren both give it their double thumbs up, the latter even proclaiming album of the year!!

Hank Williams "The Unreleased Recordings" 3cd box set $90 First of the Hank Williams Grand Ol Opry performances sponsored by and known as "Mother's Best Flour Shows". He did a lot of songs that he never recorded. These were done on 16" acetate records which were played over the air as though the shows were being done live. They were stored after playing in the Country Music Foundation in Nashville. They were almost thrown out during a clean up at the CMF (in its old premises in the basement of the old Country Music Hall of Fame there was simply not enough room to store everything). Bob Pinson, who basically was curator of the CMF as well as being a country music scholar of the highest order saw that was not done. Over the years they were the subject of much legal wrangling as obviously unreleased Hank Williams' recordings simply don't come along every day. The ruling finally came out that rights to issue this lay with Hank Williams jnr and Jett Williams, his half sister from a secret relationship. And this is what we now have. Because of the pristine conditions under which the transcription discs were stored the sound quality is actually superior to the MGM recordings which are "rough" (if you are being kind). He covers Ernest Tubb, Bailes Brothers and even "On Top of Old Smokey". The very nice 40 page book includes a song by song run down of the 54 tracks. One of the real old songs "The Blind Child's Prayer" dated from 1894. Hank proved to be a song historian as well as an interpreter. Surely a must for anyone who considers themselves a Hank Williams' fan.

Joey & Rory "The Life of a Song" $30 New on Sugar Hill are this fine husband and wife duo who won a CMT contest for duos, called "Can You Duet"...suffice to say they can and then some. Rory Feek is the main writer and harmony singer behind his wife Joey Martin. She is great vocalist, perhaps a little Paulette Carlsonish in places but together they are dynamite. As much as I love the Woodys, Joey & Rory win because of the sheer power of Joey's vocals. They are also equally adept at uptempo songs and ballads. But, the concept of uptempo is within the acoustic framework that they use on the whole album. "Play The Song", the opener has a nice rockabilly feel about it. It is followed by a lovely tribute to Emmylou Harris, "Sweet Emmylou" and lo and behold it was co-written by Catherine Britt but was not covered on her album. A case of the fish that John West rejected being better than the fish he accepted. "Tonight Cowboy You're Mine" has a western flavour, whilst "Cheater Cheater" may be the rockiest acoustic song you will ever hear and features an absolutely incendiary dobro solo from the great Rob Ickes of Blue Highway. It has some wonderfully bitchy lines about "where'd you meet that no good white trash ho'". Brilliant. A little political incorrectness. There may be hope yet. "Rodeo" is another "cheating" song of sorts in which the gal has to compete not with another woman but the lure of the rodeo. Great melody. It is at this point you probably start to think what a wonderful recording. The instrumentation is full and sounds like the group is playing in the room. Sugar Hill has long been a label renowned for the quality of their recordings. Even by their lofty standards this is mesmerizing. As a producer Carl Jackson is one of the best and the sound of this cd is superb and then some. "Tune of a Twenty Dollar Bill" was on Shawn Camp's "Lucky Silver Dollar" and is a fine piece with nostalgic lyrics. Great guitar assumably by Carl Jackson and fiddle from Aubrey Haynie. They even do an acoustic cover of Lynyrd Skynyrd favourite "Freebird" and breathe life into it. Sparsest backing of guitar, dobro and fiddle open the song before the rhythm section joins in and the song builds slowly to its climax. Like hearing it for the first time. Ickes plays a wonderfully sad dobro before electric guitar leads out. "Boots" is ostensibly about well boots but represents the story of a relationship with the boots symbolising the bond. "To Say Goodbye" is a two part sad song about a 9-11 incident contrasted with an elderly man looking after his mentally ill wife. The tie in line is they just want to say goodbye. It has none of the tackiness a Martina McBride Nashville song would have and that is why it succeeds so well. "The Life of a Song" also gives human qualities to a song. Not one weak moment on the entire album and right in line for album of the year countdown. Believe it. Joey is one hell of a vocalist, Rory one hell of a harmony singer and Carl Jackson a producer supreme.

Ray Scott – "Crazy Like Me" $30 Ray Scott has one previous album which had one of the best outlaw style country songs you would ever hear in "My Kind of Music". Only thing the rest of the album was not much to write home about. This on the other hand is uniformly superb. He has maintained the outlaw stance and has a similar delivery to Waylon in places. "Poor Folks" is a great ballad about a couple who aspire to the simple things in life. "I wonder what the poor folks are doing tonight" says it all. They don't need material things to know they have it all. "Sometimes the Bottle Hits Ya Back" is a very Randy Howard style outlaw romp. "Workin' My way Back Home" has a very Waylon-like delivery. It is good to see this style of music again following on Jamey Johnson's superb "That Lonesome Song". This is a fine album and Ray Scott has the wit and style to be a major player in that select field of real country music.

Emmylou Harris "Last Date" $28 was back in print for a while on Eminent label which went belly up. This is up there with the very best live albums of all time and not just country music. The Hot Band at the time was driven by Barry Tashian, a superior musician who toured America as opening act for the Beatles in Barry & the Remains, a great American pop act of the mid 60s. Barry was able to provide the Gram Parsons style duets which elevated this album even further. It is goosebump stuff on "We'll sweep Out the Ashes." Apart from the songs which reprised her Parsons' years the songs were all new and covered a wide range of material. She opens with a great driving version of Hank Snow's "I'm Movin' On". It is followed by "It's Not Love But It's Not Bad", a Hank Cochran/Glen Martin co-write which was the title song from one of Merle Haggard's great Capitol albums. "Restless" is a Carl Perkins rocker and "Racing in the Street" was one of several Bruce Springsteen songs she has so wonderfully covered. She follows with the Neil Young song "Long May You Run" does a few country rock Burrito Brothers classics and concludes with a great vocal version of the Floyd Cramer title song....and then a Buck Owens medley to finish. A great album by anyone's standards and then some. One of Emmy's best. Don't miss out this time.

Eddy Arnold "Memorial Best Of" $40 RCA Japan The price is high because the Yen is strong but this is a superb compilation any way you look at it and has 25 tracks plus Japanese mastering to make it even more attractive. The tracks tell it all: I Really Don't want to Know/ Bouquet of Roses/ Anytime/ A Heart Full of Love/ Molly Darling/ It's a Sin/ Just a Little Lovin' Will Go a Long Way/ Don't Rob another Man's Castle/ That's How Much I Love You/ What's He Doin' in My World/ I'll Hold You In My Heart/ Just Call Me Lonesome/ You Don't Know Me/ The Tip of My Fingers/ I Love You Because/ Release ,e/ Tennessee Waltz/ It's Such a pretty World Today/ Welcome to My World/ the Last Word in Lonesome Is Me/ Turn the World Around/ I want to Go With You/ Then You Can tell me Goodbye/ Make the Wold Go Away/ I Really Don't Want to Know.

Mel Street "20 Super Hits" $28 Well this is a real surprise! Knowing Gusto's penchant for recycling material it was a really pleasant surprise and a half to find this album features 20 entirely different tracks to what was on the "20 Greatest Hits" package and as such is as welcome as a win in powerball. Mel recorded for a number of different labels and so any compilation is going to be a little difficult. This concentrates on more straight country material in contrast to the 20 Greatest Hits which mainly highlighted his peerless cheating songs. Fear not Mel is the consummate singer. A real stylist. As good as George Jones and able to bring life to even mundane songs. But tracks such as "Fingerprints" are quality all the way. The Cajun flavoured "Moonshine Man" is a none too subtle rewrite of "revenooer Man" with a little "White Lightning" thrown in for good measure. "I Can't Dance" was a Tom T Hall song many of us first heard done by Gram Parsons. "I Need Somebody Bad" is classic country. A must have cd by an artist who is not revered as much as he should be. He is equal to the best ever.

Tom Russell – "Veteran's Day: The Tom Russell Anthology" $50 Extensive 2 cd collection which would be ideal for someone who doesn't have a lot of Tom Russell but wants to take the first step. Not a true Anthology in one sense as it is heavier on the tracks from Hightone label. Half a cd of material from his Philo label albums is not enough. Mind you the classics such as "Navajo Rug" (which he co-wrote with Ian Tyson), "Haley's Comet" (about the sad & pathetic demise of Bill Haley) and the classic tale of greed & the cock fighting rooster "Gallo Del Cielo" the version here is the duet with Ian Tyson. For some reason the compilers include a track with Barrence Whitfield but totally ignore any of Tom's collaborations with the brilliant Katy Moffatt, and there were many. That is like turning off the Melbourne Cup to watch a Kempsey maiden. Tom's collaborations with Dave Alvin are featured on the second disc and the highlight is "California Snow", one of the most poignant tales you could ever hear. "The Death of Jimmy Martin" is something very close to home, the deterioration of country music to the non-existent stage. Lots of songs and considering Tom's songs tend to be on the longish side 37 tracks is great value. Just wish I knew why Katy Moffatt doesn't even rate a mention.

Dan Penn "Junkyard Junky" $30 Nothing to do with the Ken Mellons' song and indeed this is a very personal laid back a la Nick Lowe-ish tale about his hometown of Molloy Alabama and the many actual junkyards that he used to spend time in, in his formative years.. The title track is a fine opener. It is followed by "Is a Bluebird Blue" ,a song Dan "penned" (wanted to say that) for Conway Twitty but Dan's own version lopes along beautifully. "Way Back" is another beautifully laid back piece which features the keyboards of Bobby Emmons. Again comparison to Nick Lowe of recent times and that is indeed a compliment. "Midnight Rainbow" features Carson Whitsett on all instruments and this album is dedicated to his memory. It has a quietly religious feel. "Smoke Filled Room" is more typical of the southern inspired soul that Dan Penn is known for but is an exception more than anything on this album. "You Must Know" has the biggest compliment of musicians but continues the delightful laid back feel of the album. A truly nice album and it gets better with every play. Soulful country nostalgia. Wundabar!!

George Hamilton IV "Songs of Inspiration & Faith" $25 If you lined up a hundred gospel albums you'd find that half probably were all covers, 40 % had a mix of covers with a few originals chucked in whilst 10 % were actually nearly all original. This 18 tracker by George is all original and there are some great songs. No guessing what "I've Never Seen an Armored Car Following a Hearse" is about. "It Ain't That Way" is a duet with the lovely Connie Smith. This disc also includes brilliant pickers such as Buddy Emmons, Pig Robbins, Rob Hajacos, Aubrey Hayney etc, though the number of musicians listed suggest it was recorded over a longish period. Not to worry though it comes together very well.

Mike Cowan "Easy Chair" $30 Not Laughing Len's brother (well they are pronounced the same) but a young Texan with a very nice sound and obviously schooled in the Texas shuffle way of doing things with many of the Texas A team providing the backing. Ronnie Huckaby on piano, Bobby Flores on fiddle, and Tommy Detamore on guitar and steel provide the backing and he is given vocal assistance by Amber Digby. All but 3 of the songs are written by Cowan and it is Texas honky tonk at its best. "A Vegas Story" is a little different, the story of a guy who tries to put life behind him and make his fortune in Vegas. No happy endings I'm afraid. "Head Over Heels" sounds like something from George Strait's "Beyond the Blue Neon" period. "Motel With No Phone" features a classic country vocal and is the last attempt at reviving a relationship. "Too Much Time in a Honky Tonk" is a jaunty romp. "Talkin' To Her Memory Again" is a classic shuffle. Great album.

Bobby Flores – "Eleven Roses" $30 One of the very favourite artists we sell is the great Texas fiddler and vocalist Bobby Flores. He sings with an easy style and can make any song his own. The Darrell McCall title song was one of Hank Williams Jr's biggest hits but Bobby makes it his own. We get to hear a little cajun on "Cajun Baby" and a couple of classic covers of Charlie Walker's "I Go Anywhere" and then Louvin Brothers (via Carl Smith) "Are You Teasing Me". He toured with Ray Price for a while and pays tribute to his former mentor and manages to breathe new life into "Danny Boy". The Tex mex flavoured "La Golondrina" lets Bobby show off his prowess on the fiddle and contrasts his playing with Catie Offerman & R J Smith. His many fans will not be disappointed.

Leland Martin "The Early Years" $30 One of the great independent artists, and these songs precede his classic "Simply Traditional" album, one of the best recent independent releases. This will be in when you get this. I have heard a rough take and it measures up with his best. Tracks: 1. I Need A Little Good Luck Bad 2. Last Whiskey Trip 3. Silent Love 4. Tell Ol' Rover To Move On Over 5. If You Only Knew Jesus 6. Stupid Little Cupid 7. Dreams Still Come True 8. Fairytales 9. Our Little Boy 10. Home Is Where The Honky Tonk Is 11. Who Am I To Say 12. Think Before You Drink. Those who have his cds will need this believe me.

Will Ryan & the Cactus County Cowboys " Rhythm Rides the Range" $28 Shortish but wonderfully jazzy western swing (with the emphasis on western) with even a bit of scat singing thrown in for good measure. The sound is a tad reminiscent of a jazzier Riders in the sky. 11 tracks. And holy Tom Mix...what a great album cover.

Conway Twitty – "Greatest Hits Live" DVD $30 This was finally released at the end of November. Recorded in 1992 just before his sudden death this shows Conway was still right at the very top of his game. 16 songs (plus a reprise of his theme song, "It's Only Make believe")

Merle Haggard – "Live Austin City Limits 1978" DVD $30 This is Merle's debut on the Austin City Limits show from 1978. An earlier release in this series actually featured a show a decade after this. Hag's touring band at this time was probably its best featuring the great Roy Nichols plus Ronnie Reno and Bonnie Owens on vocals and the fabulous Gordon Terry on fiddle. There were also the likes of ex Bob Wills man Tiny Moore on fiddle & electric mandolin. Thus Hag features quite a few fiddle tunes where he trades licks admirably with the brilliant Terry. The song selection is also great with lesser known but superb Haggard songs such as "Farmer's Daughter". 14 songs in all with some great instrumental breaks being a real feature. As always the visuals and audios are 1st class.

Waylon Jennings – “Live at Austin City Limits 1984” DVD $30 Like the Hag dvd this features a considerably earlier show with the Outlaw bit being very much in vogue, though the highlight is Waylon’s defining version of “Dreaming My Dreams with You”. Also has 14 tracks and when Waylon sings “I’ve Always Been Crazy” you tend to believe him.

Heather Myles – “Live at Newland Netherlands” $40 Rounder Europe put out a brilliant dvd of Dale Watson and lo & behold we now have a companion dvd featuring the great Heather Myles, an artist we have had nothing less than the greatest respect for since her debut cd “Just Like Old Times”. This cd has 21 tracks so is great value. Heather receives great support from Brantley Kearns who played fiddle and did backing vocals on Dwight Yoakam’s first few albums...(that was he on “Guitars Cadillac etc) He proves himself to be an excellent band mate for Heather and even has the luxury of a lead vocal on the Bob Wills’ tune “Brain Cloudy Blues”. As with Dale it seems strange to say Heather runs though her “hits” as damnit she never has had any but long time Y & T readers will know we revere her like no other and whether rockin’ out (“Cadillac Cowboy”) or singing the fantastic “Rum & Rodeo” there is none better and we can only hope the album of duets with Dale Watson is going to be sooner rather than later. She is the consummate female honky tonker of our age.

Merle Haggard – Legendary Performances DVD $30 The series is put out through the excellent Shout Factory and has 15 tracks that feature Haggard performances from such shows as Billy Walker’s Country Carnival and The Porter Wagoner Show. All manner of Haggard hits are presented including “Okie from Muskogee” (1970), “Mama Tried” (1968), “Daddy Frank” (1972) and the latest track “That’s the Way Love Goes” from 1983. In addition there is a bonus interview which Haggard does in cahoots with Leona Williams.

Other volumes in this series with a similar programme layout are ** “Marty Robbins – Legendary Performances” ...great interview in this one should make it on that basis alone a must for Marty fans.

** “Tammy Wynette – Legendary Performances”.

Back In

** Dale Watson – “One More Once More” $32 Dale’s swing album with both western swing and pop covered...well the pop songs are turned into country swing by our hero. Only released in Netherlands.

** Michael Martin Murphey – “The Cowboy Christmas Gift Set” $25

This is the ideal Christmas gift with a cd + dvd. 13 Christmas songs are on the cd and they are a mix of standards and originals. The dvd is even better. It is an entire show and you would almost have to say it has a Christmas theme more than being a Christmas dvd per se. There are quite a few horse tales and even a version of the pop smash he had back in the days he was simply Michael Murphey, namely “Wildfire”. Basically you have to go 20 songs in before you come to the album’s one and only standard in “Joy to the World”. There are 27 selections on this cd and even if your name was Ebenezer Scrooge you would like this. Personally I love the original “Cowboy Christmas Ball” and the non Christmas song, the fabulous “Cowboy Logic”.

** Dale Watson – “Help Your Lord” his gospel 2008 cd.

** Ricky Skaggs – “The High Notes” $32 Only available in the Crackerbarrel stores. Bluegrass style new recordings of his Columbia country hits of the 80s.

- **Ray Sanders – Texas Dance Hall Music $30 for Ray Price and Johnny Bush fans
- **Danny O’Keefe “ In Time” $30 Brand new album
- **Jim Stringer & the AM Band – triskaidekaphilia $30
- **Billy Yates – “That’s Why I Ran”
- **Price Porter – Last Call for Heartaches

Due Soon

- **Perley Curtis – Perley Curtis ...I just love this guy’s name. the album is due soon and features the wonderful Erin Hay; previously Perley had been a major contributor to Erin’s cds. He has a nice voice in his own right. $30
- **Geary Hanley – The Comeback Trail $30 Wonderful Haggard inspired vocalist who had some chart action in the 70s and early 80s
- **Len Snow 80 Proof $30 (2nd album)
- **Scotty Campbell “Smokin’ & Drinkin’ “ Second album by slightly eccentric Canadian. His first “Damned If I Recall” happened too many moons ago and perfectly blended rockabilly & honky tonk so as to appeal to fans of both styles. This will be great.
- **Paul Parr “Sainst & Sinners” 2nd album
- **Stan Martin “Love Ain’t That Tough” 2nd full length album

BARGAINS & DELETIONS

My guarantee is that anything over $22 is an out of print nearly impossible to find gem. There is none better. There have been none better. They have that quality I loved as both a fan & a retailer. When you play them People bought them. They are the epitome of great country music.

$50

- **Wesley Dennis – “Country to the Core” Second cd of Wesley’s was around for about 1 ½ minutes. 12 songs

**Josh Logan – “Somebody Paints the Wall” Brilliant Mel Street inspired vocalist. Great songs.

**Mario Martin – Keep it On the Country Side (was only 17 when released with a voice a tad reminiscent of Ricky Van Shelton). James Stroud producer.

versions done by others. Here are the Miller versions of “When Two Worlds
Collide”, “Tall Tall Trees”, “Invitation
To the Blues”, “Half a Mind”, “Husbands
& Wives”, “Old Toy Trains” etc
Owens, Buck
Act Naturally (with Ringo & Crying Time
With Emmylou) Hard to get comeback.

***Schneider, John                      Take the Long Way Home (Truly sensational album which includes special guests Waylon & Johnny Cash on Harlan Howard's "Better Class of Losers" but all songs are super. "Broken Promise Land" was also done by Mark Chesnutt but Schneider is better. The absolute highlight is "The Auction" so filled with angst you will get goosebumps..."They sold everything but the flowers on mama's grave!!". A pretty boy who sings with a deep voice which is as good as anybody.

Jean Shepard –                              Honky Tonk Heroine    CMF 24 tracker of the brilliant Capitol label vocalist. Why do all the best ones get deleted??

Thornton, Marsha                            Marsha Thornton her classic Owen Bradley debut with the original version of "A Bottle of Wine & Patsy Cline"

Anderson, Bill                                Greatest Hits Volume 2 (Varese)

Atkins, Chet/Jerry Reed                   Sneakin' Around

Bond, Johnny                                 Very Best ("Hot Rod Lincoln" 2 versions & 17 tracks

Boone, Larry                                 Down That River Road. Great voice, writer & handsome but mainly known for others covering his material. This, his 3rd Mercury label cd may be his best with "Everybody Wants To Be Hank Williams' (But Nobody Wants to Die)" a cracker!

Dalton, Lacy                                 Crazy Love (the version of the Van Morrison title track is superb but "Little Boy Blue" is an out and out classic. Probably her 2nd best album just shaded by "Survivor")

Davis, Joey                                 Love Songs, Waltz's (sic) True Stories & Lies. A truly great indie.

Ford, Tennessee Ernie                      Capitol Collectors Series (the best cd Great sound & content)

Hand, James                                 Shadows Where Magic Was (1st)

Jansen, Frank                                Lolene

Kane, Keiran                                 Find My Way Home (rare WB album)

Logan, Josh                                 Something Strange (Bob Grady) `

McEntire, Reba                              Oklahoma Girl 2cds 40 track collection of her Mercury recordings which predate her MCA recordings are generally stone country all the way. Pity she went the pop route as this is so good!!

Martin, Sonny                                I've Always Been Country
Nice indie but highlighted by the saddest song ever recorded "Rock a Bye Baby" Makes "Teddy Bear" seem like a Jimmy Sturr polka!

McDaniel, Mel                                Rockabilly Boy (what an album which features "You Can't Play the Blues in an Air Conditioned Room")

McDaniel, Mel                                Now You're Talkin'

McDaniel, Mel                                Country Pride

Miller, Roger                                Best Volume two: King of the Road
Companion to Volume one (see in $40) and this 20 tracker features mainly hits but also hard to get tracks such as "Hoppy's Gone" & Roger's versions of "Me & Bobby McGee" & "Little Green Apples"

Nelson, Willie Newbury, Mickey O'Kanes	Born For trouble In a New Age Tired of the Running (Their second & every way their best. Longer songs allow for instrumental breaks. Blind accordion man Jay Spell is the perfect foil for keirna & Jamie.)
Paycheck, Johnny Sweet, Ron	The Difference in Me (Playback) Ten in Tennessee ("I Play Haggard" indie Hall of Fame song!

Potter, Curtis	To Roy Nichols With Love First of 2 great cds from Kathy & friends who include Albert lee, Skip Edwards, Bonnie Owens & the great James Intveld who duets on the Buck Owens track "I'll Take a Chance" & takes the lead on the Haggard gem "Let Your Conscience Be Your Guide".
Robertson, Kathy	Hillbilly Down:To Roy Nichols With Love 2 (14 tck Inc. Merle Haggard, Ric Shea, James Intveld & Pete Anderson on guitar. Kathy was on legendary "Town South of Bakersfield" cd & is great on the Red Simpson track "Fairy Tales & Wedding Rings". Haggard is on "Daddy" with Red Volkaert & The Strangers. All A++
Robertson, Kathy	Your Old Used to Be One of the truly great indie artists. Pure honky tonk a la Norman Wade (but Curt is a better singer.)
Ryle, Curt	I Never Go Around Mirrors So Good So Long You Ain't Seen the Last of Me What a singer!
Shafer, Whitey	A Memory Like You
Shafer, Whitey	All Fired Up rockabilly feel!

4 brilliant albums by the artists we deem ANTI honky tonk singers. Ken Holloway & Bruce Haynes that is. They are promoted as Christian country but don't believe it. Instead of doing everything in the present tense they do it in the past tense. They used to go get drunk...they used to chase women etc. They just don't do it now. Anti honky tonk. A select but wonderful area of country music.
